OVERVIEW

The Art-Stream Gallery is a 30-foot 1967 Airstream Sovereign land yacht that was completely remodeled into an exhibition space in 2001 by Alleghany Meadows. Based in Carbondale, CO, it has traveled from Los Angeles to New York, putting contemporary ceramic art on the street, enabling the purchase of works and enriching the life of people who bring purchases of handmade works into their lives. This novel, entrepreneurial project innovating on conventional display and sales practices in contemporary art will be open to the public as part of the Gallery Expo of the 2013 NCECA Annual Conference in Houston. The entire community is invited to view and purchase utilitarian clay works by highly regarded ceramic artists from this nomadic venue and other galleries from across the US that will be exhibiting in the NCECA Gallery Expo.
