

Makers, Mentors and Milestones: NCECA 2016 Exhibition Guide

Welcome to the 2016 NCECA Kansas City Exhibition Guide!

Exhibitions surrounding NCECA's annual conference have an important impact on host communities as well as the artists and collectors who travel from throughout the U.S. and abroad to experience the diversity of creative approaches to contemporary work with clay. An Exhibitions Committee composed of artists and/curators with links to the host region reviews exhibition proposals to consider them for inclusion in listings. NCECA's goal with this listing is to provide access to information about exhibitions that demonstrate compelling ideas and represent a high standard of creative inquiry involving clay. While NCECA cannot control the admissions policies of venues hosting exhibitions during the NCECA conference, all of them included in this exhibitions listing have been strongly encouraged to admit visitors wearing NCECA conference registration badges without charge.

We have organized the exhibitions to correspond with ticketed shuttle and tour routes that Lew White Tours (LWT) offers in conjunction with NCECA so that you can find several exhibitions that may be located within a single area without having to jump around in the document. Not all of the exhibitions are on a shuttle route or a bus tour. A listing of exhibitions within walking distance (within 1 mile) of the Kansas City Convention Center follows the Lawrence Tour route exhibitions, followed by exhibitions that are not on a shuttle/tour route.

Shuttle and Tour Routes

These routes were designed by NCECA's On-Site-Conference Liaisons to help visitors maximize their viewing experience while not having to struggle with environmental and economic impact of individual car rentals, and also to mitigate some of the stress involved with navigating unfamiliar communities.

Tickets for any of these exhibition routes are an option that anyone can consider. They are not a requirement of visiting any exhibition. You are not required to be registered for the conference to purchase a shuttle or tour ticket. Tickets purchased through Lew White Tours are required for boarding buses.

Shuttles will run during the day on Wednesday, March 16th from 10am- 5pm and evening shuttles will run Thursday, March 17th and Friday, March 18th from 5-9pm. The Lawrence tour bus will leave the Convention Center at 8:30am and return at 2:30 pm on Wednesday, March 16th. For more information regarding shuttle buses and the Lawrence Tour go to <https://nceca2016.trstickets.com/>

A Quiet Cadence, Kyla Strid. This exhibition represents a shift. A shift in how she approaches making pots, how she thinks about their existence in a space, how form and surface can be stripped apart or put back together again. The forms of her pots are simple and clean. They can stand alone, yet she is interested in how they can create a quiet sense of space, landscape, or a kind of pulse when grouped together. Organized by Kyla Strid / Ben Ahlvers.

Ordinary Opposites, Ben Ahlvers, Russ Wrangle. The works of these artists is rooted in figurative ceramic traditions, and at the same time are not limited by it. The figures created embody these questions through form, surface, metaphor, and gesture. Each artist is significantly influenced by artists from literature and music. This exhibition will feature their newest works. Organized by Ahlvers & Wrangle.

New Works by Brian Horsch Horsch has been creating hand built and thrown ceramic sculpture since 2008. He tends to focus on human and animal forms both real and unreal. He has a special affinity for farmers, ranchers, and indigenous Midwest critters. This exhibition will feature Horsch's newest works. Organized by the Lawrence Arts Center.
