Prohibitions against Use

NCECA's logo may not be altered or used on a product and/or service by a business in a way that could state or imply an endorsement that it is from NCECA. Logo may not be used in a manner that would confuse others into believing that the business or service originates from NCECA.

The logo should not be used in any way that discriminates or implies discrimination against any persons or groups based on age, ancestry, belief, color, disability, national origin, race, sexual orientation or gender or any other protected category. Any use that does not comply with NCECA's trademark policy or does not have written authorization from NCECA Executive is expressly prohibited.

Specific Logo Usage Guidelines

1. Use of primary NCECA logo or conference logo may be requested. All requests are contingent upon the executive director's determination that use is appropriate and aligned with NCECA's mission and purpose. Permission to use NCECA logos may not lead members of the public to construe that activities are produced or financially supported projects of the organization except when such specific permission is granted.
2. If use of the conference logo is preferred, it must be a version that incorporates the NCECA Corporate mark;

3. All designs making use of NCECA logos must maintain proper spacing around logo(s) (typically the height/width of the logo's letter n or a);
4. Logos may be rescaled but must maintain adequate resolution and/ or legibility.
5. Under no circumstances may the proportions of logo(s) be adjusted in such a way that its dimensions are elongated laterally, vertically or distorted in any other way;
6. NCECA's logo is typically provided only in situations where the item to be produced is provided to the public free of charge. Items using NCECA logos may not be sold by any party other than NCECA except through licensing agreements.
7. If used electronically, the logo and tagline should always be hyperlinked to www.nceca.net
8. NCECA requests that approved taglines be included in every appearance of NCECA's corporate or conference logos.

Examples of taglines:

The National Council on Education for the Ceramic Arts is a dynamic organization that inspires global advancement and appreciation of the field through programs, exhibitions, opportunities and resources.
